THE NATION WIDE CAMPAIGN OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"To inform the mind and awaken the conscience"

A typical church in a typical community made a survey of its financial situation. And these are the facts revealed:

1. Less than 11 per cent of the members were giving 82 per cent of the church's entire budget.

2. Those who gave most generously were, in every case, discovered to be members who had some regular, systematic plan of giving.

3. The most generous givers were the most regular worshippers—the men and women of greatest value to the Church.

The Nation Wide Campaign is not primarily a campaign for money; it is a great spiritual enterprise for the deepening and strengthening of the life of the Church.

Yet the example of church after church proves this—that the man or woman who is giving generously and systematically is, by that very act, more wholeheartedly enlisted.

Increased vision through systematic investment: son-ship through stewardship: a membership giving of itself more fully because it has learned to give more generously of its means—this should be the reward to the Church of the Nation-Wide Campaign.

Will your Church, and you, reap your share of this certain reward?

The Nation-Wide Campaign for the Church's Mission

LOST---A CHAPERONE

The above is the title of an interesting play to be staged by the high school athletic association in the school auditorium next Friday night. This is the first public entertainment of the year given by the school, and it should be liberally patronized. The boys and girls under the direction of Misses Bingham and Beckwith, have been practicing for several weeks, and the public may be assured that a good play will be the result.

There will be an admission fee of 25 cents for all school children and all other children under 12 years old. All others will be charged a fee of 35 cents. The proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of the two athletic associations.

The cast of characters numbers fifteen boys and girls of the high school. Play will begin at eight o'clock.

Aeroplane at Rosemary

A good deal of excitement was occasioned Tuesday morning in Rosemary by the arrival of an aeroplane, which landed in a cotton field just north of the railroad station. Mr. A. Seibold, a former member of the U. S. Army Aviation Department, has charge of the machine which will make several flights daily for the purpose of carrying passengers. He will be here for several days.

GEORGE W. FULGHAM

George W. Fulgham, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Halifax County, died at his home between Rosemary and Weldon last Thursday night, November 27th. Mr. Fulgham had been in failing health for several years, but for the past few weeks he had been stronger than usual. A few days before his death his condition became complicated, pneumonia developing, his physician and friends realized the end was near.

On Saturday, at Smith's Methodist church the funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Chas. M. Lance, assisted by Rev. J. G. Blaylock, of Weldon. He was buried in the cemetery at Smiths by the side of his son, George, who preceded his father about two years ago. The grave was covered with many beautiful flowers, showing the esteem in which he was held by his family and friends.

Mr. Fulgham had reached the ripe age of 78 years. His wife, five daughters and three sons survive him. Much might be said of this good man, but two things are worthy of special mention—his regard for his family and his love for his church. He was especially interested in the new Smith's church, which is now nearing completion. He was perhaps the oldest member of this church. He had been Superintendent of the Sunday School and steward for many years. He had often said he hoped he would be spared to see its completion and dedication and clung to this idea to the last. But God saw fit that he should unite with the "Church Triumphant."

We shall miss Brother Fulgham for a while, but we shall soon see him again in that "City not made with hands eternal in the heavens."

AUDREY LYERLY

Pausing on the threshold of young womanhood, Audrey Lyerly saw an angel beckon, and threw wide open Death's Portal, and unafraid and smiling, she entered the Father's house.

"There is no death, what seems so is transition."

On Friday, Nov. 28, Audrey Lyerly, age 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Lyerly, of Rosemary, passed away, after a brief illness. She was conscious until the last, and realized the approaching end. Naturally of a sweet disposition, helpful in the home, beloved as a pupil, she will be missed by all who knew her. She is survived by her parents, two brothers and sister. The services were conducted at All Saints Episcopal Church, Rev. Lewis N. Taylor officiating, assisted by Rev. C. M. Lance. There was a profusion of the flowers which she loved so well in life.

Interment was made in the Roanoke Rapids Cemetery.

MERCHANTS OBSERVING COAL RESTRICTIONS

Town Generally Affected Very Little as Hydro - Electric Power is Used by Mills and Merchants for Power and Light. - Merchants Burn Wood After 4:00 P. M.

At the call of Mayor Chase, all the merchants in Roanoke Rapids and Rosemary met in the Mayors office Tuesday, to hear and discuss the regulations put out by the Regional Coal Committee, Southern Region of Atlanta Ga. From the information received it is very evident that the curtailment in use of coal by all merchants is necessary. Every merchant present at the meeting realized the situation fully and it was agreed by all, for the present, to stop all the burning of coal at 4 P. M. each day--except such merchants selling food and clothing may use coal until 9 P. M. on Saturday. It was further agreed that the use of wood after 4 P. M. is to be permitted. As the power of lighting purposes is generated by water power, the details of such as ordered do not affect this place.

The order given out in the press, has been greatly exaggerated, the substance of the orders given out by the Regional Coal Committee being simply to cut down all heat generated by coal, gas or steam, after 4 P. M. each day.

This is to be remembered however that due to the seriousness of the situation, it may become necessary to further curtail the use of coal and if these orders, are given, notice of same will be given at once.

The public is urged to favor these simple orders to the letter.

SPRAINS KNEE

Monday evening at the supper table Mr. J. T. Stainback, while attempting to catch his wife, who was falling in a faint, sprained his right knee. It is presumed that his swift and sudden move Mr. Stainback's foot became entangled in the leg of the table, causing the sprain.

At first it was not thought that his knee was injured to any great extent, as Mr. Stainback was able to go to the phone and call Dr. Long to Mrs. Stainback's assistance, but later during the night the injury became very painful and Mr. Stainback discovered that he could not use his right leg at all.

We are glad to report that Mr. Stainback's injury is recovering as speedily as could be expected.

Debt World is Apt to Forget.

The grow as good of the world is partly dependent on unhistoric acts; and that things are not so fit with you and me as they might have been, is half owing to the number who lived faithfully a hidden life, and rest in unvisited tombs.—George Eliot.

Thrift Societies Organized.

Roanoke Rapids School is keeping pace with the other progressive schools of the State in organizing Thrift Societies among the children in the various grades. These are not the old war-time Saving Societies, although they are modeled after them. These organizations are being promoted by the Treasury Department of the Federal Government in the effort to instill the Spirit of economy and thrift into the youth of America. We are glad to report that these thrift societies have been organized in every room in the entire school and practically every child has joined. To become a member, a child must agree to save something.

Pupils are encouraged to save their food, clothing, books, paper pencils, their health, time and money. Incidentally children will be asked to invest their savings in thrift stamps.
